

Older People Sharing Their Homes with Dignity:

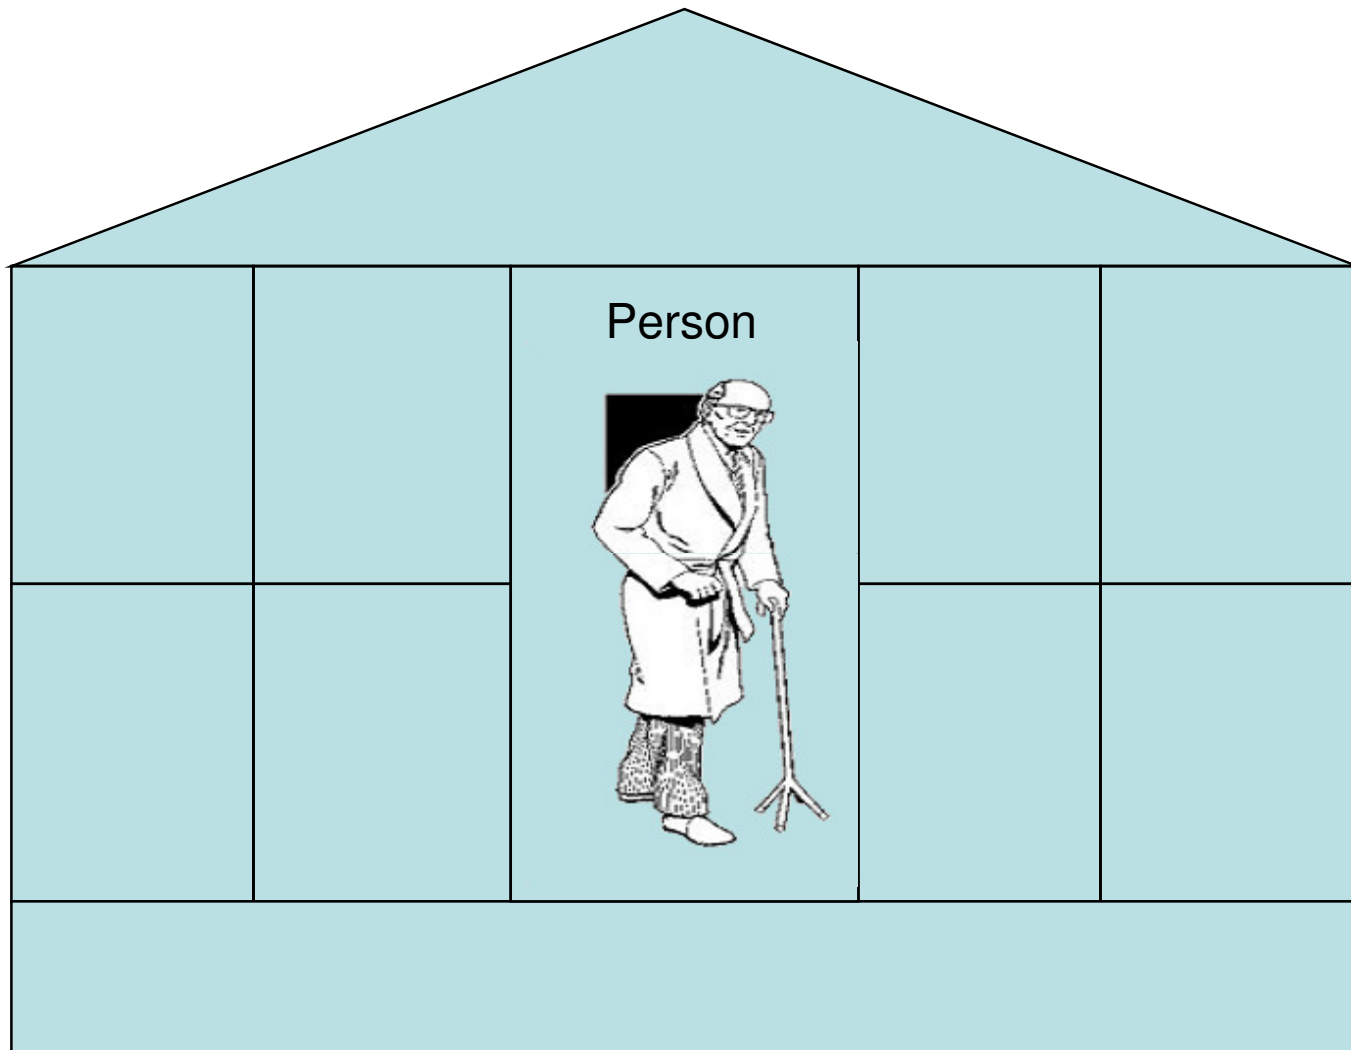

Teetering or Standing Tall?

Rosie Lawn & Wendy Francis
Perth Home Care Services

The Challenge to Think Differently

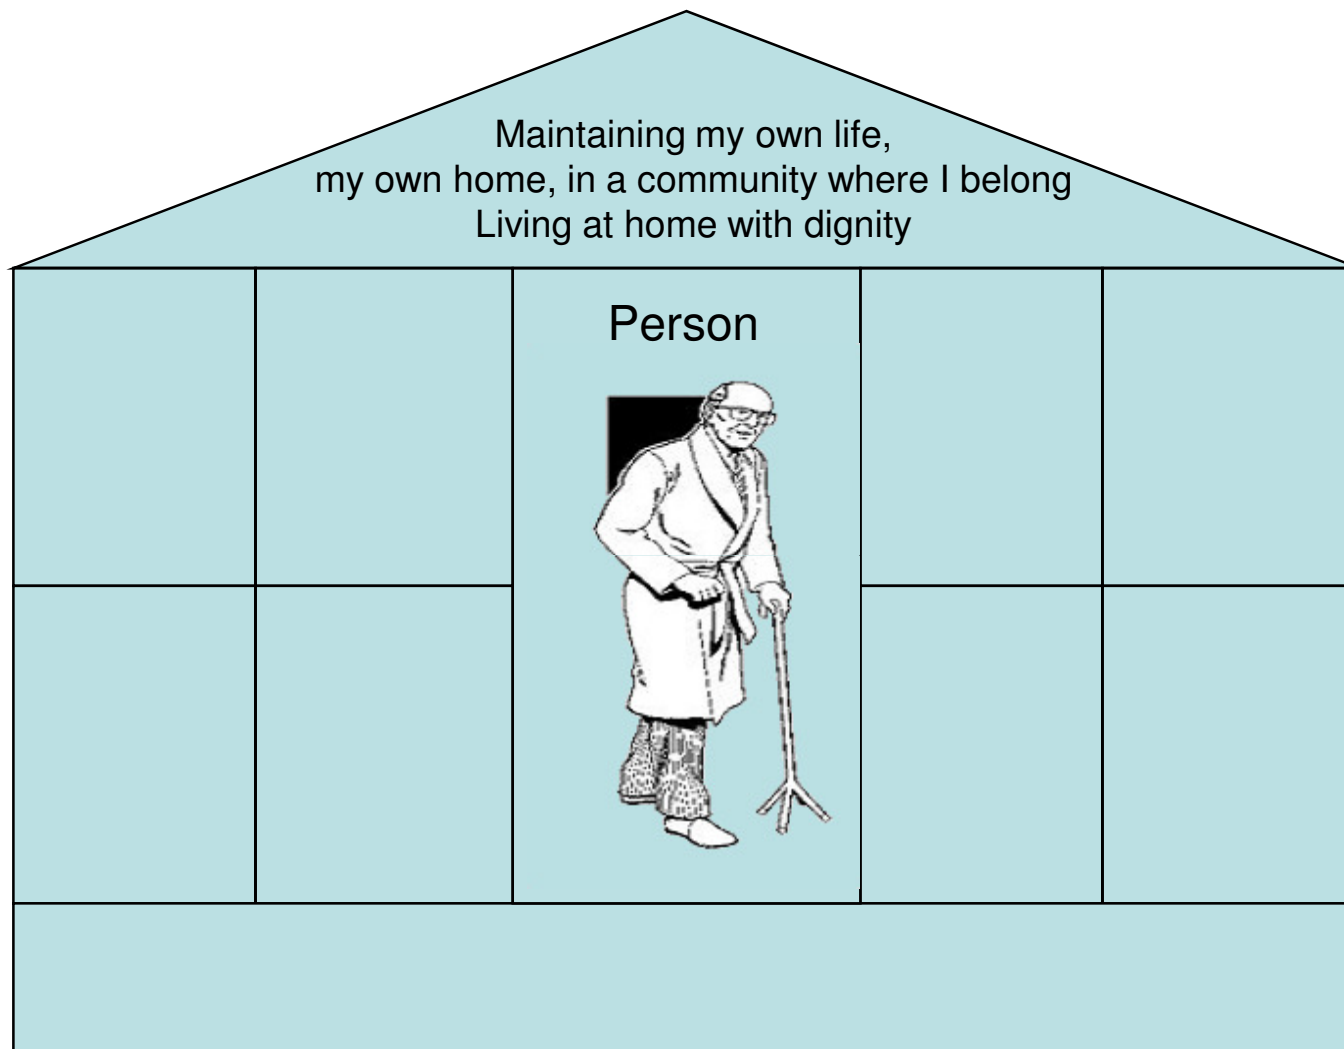

- How might we be able to support people to live at home with dignity for the whole of their lives?

Building Blocks to Community Living

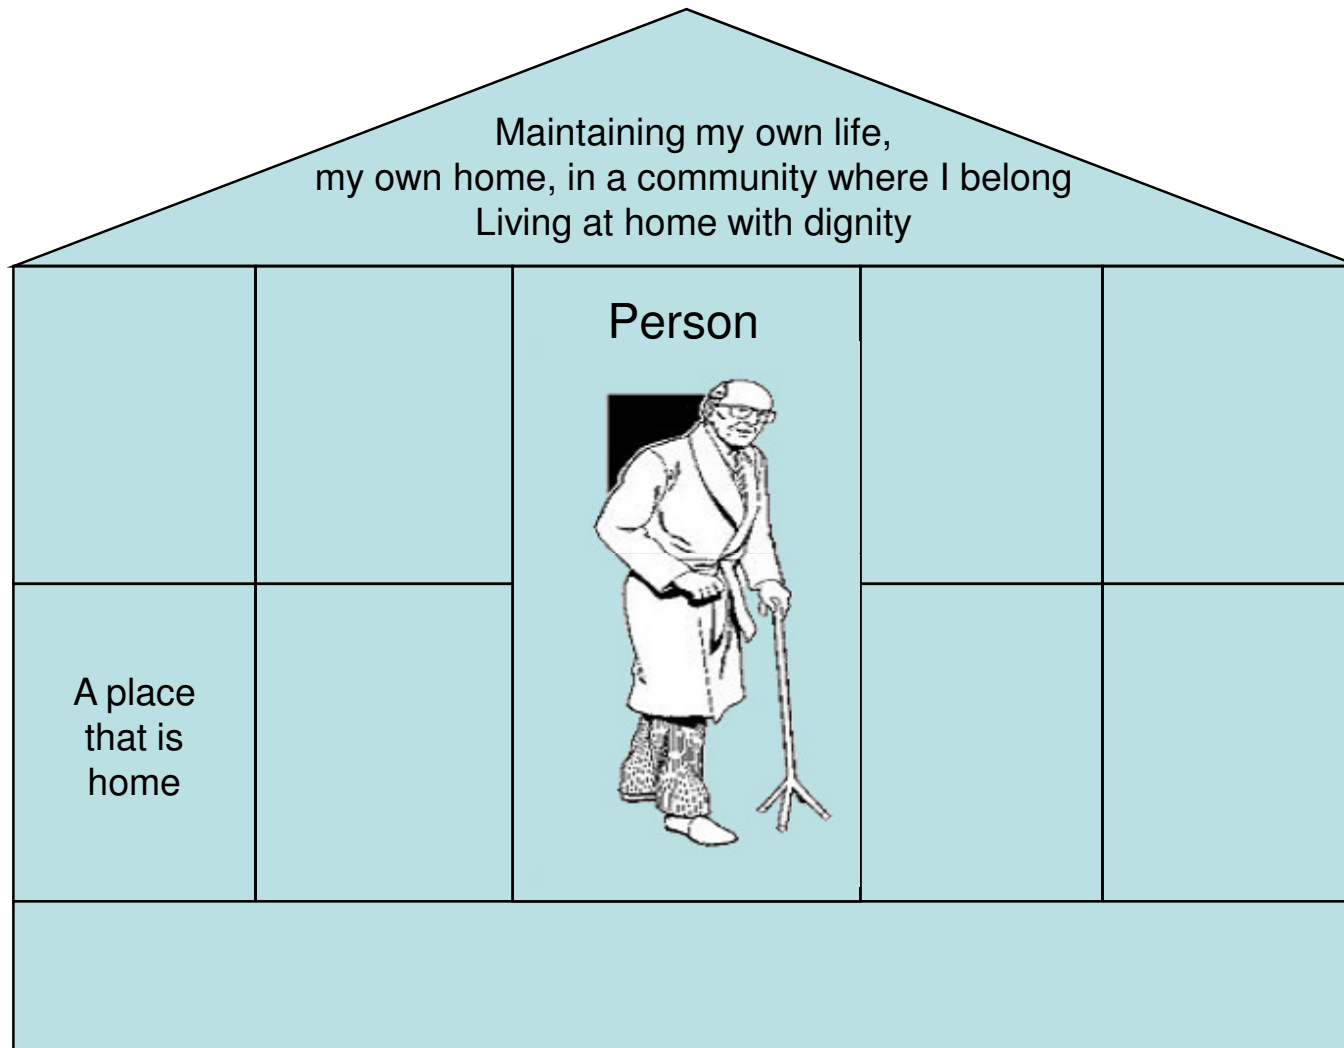

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

Looking forward to community living

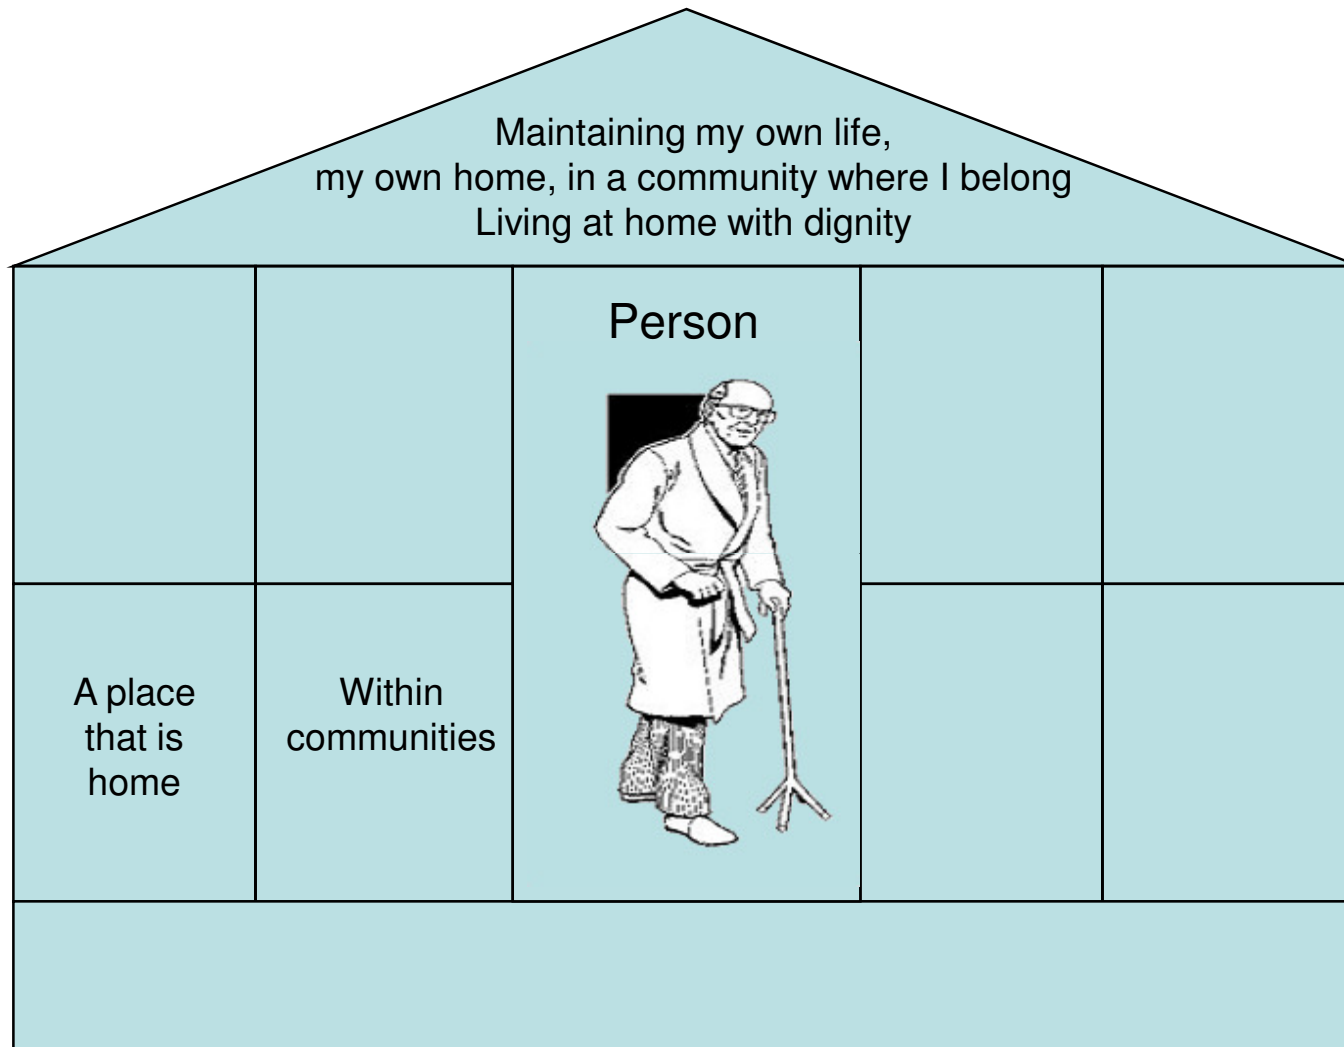

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

Looking forward to community living

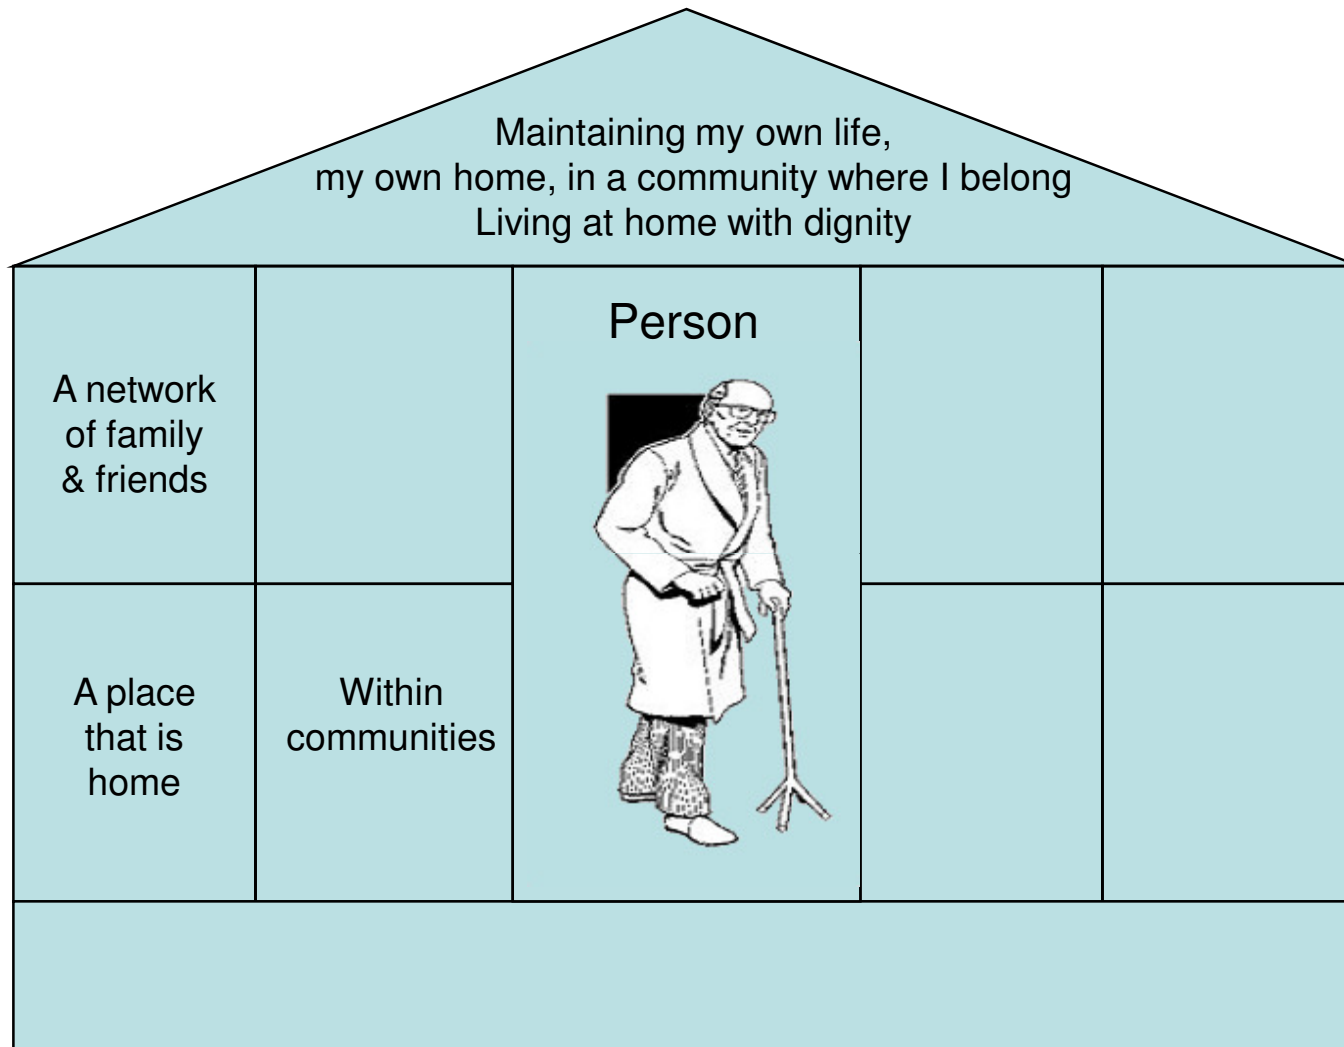

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

Looking forward to community living

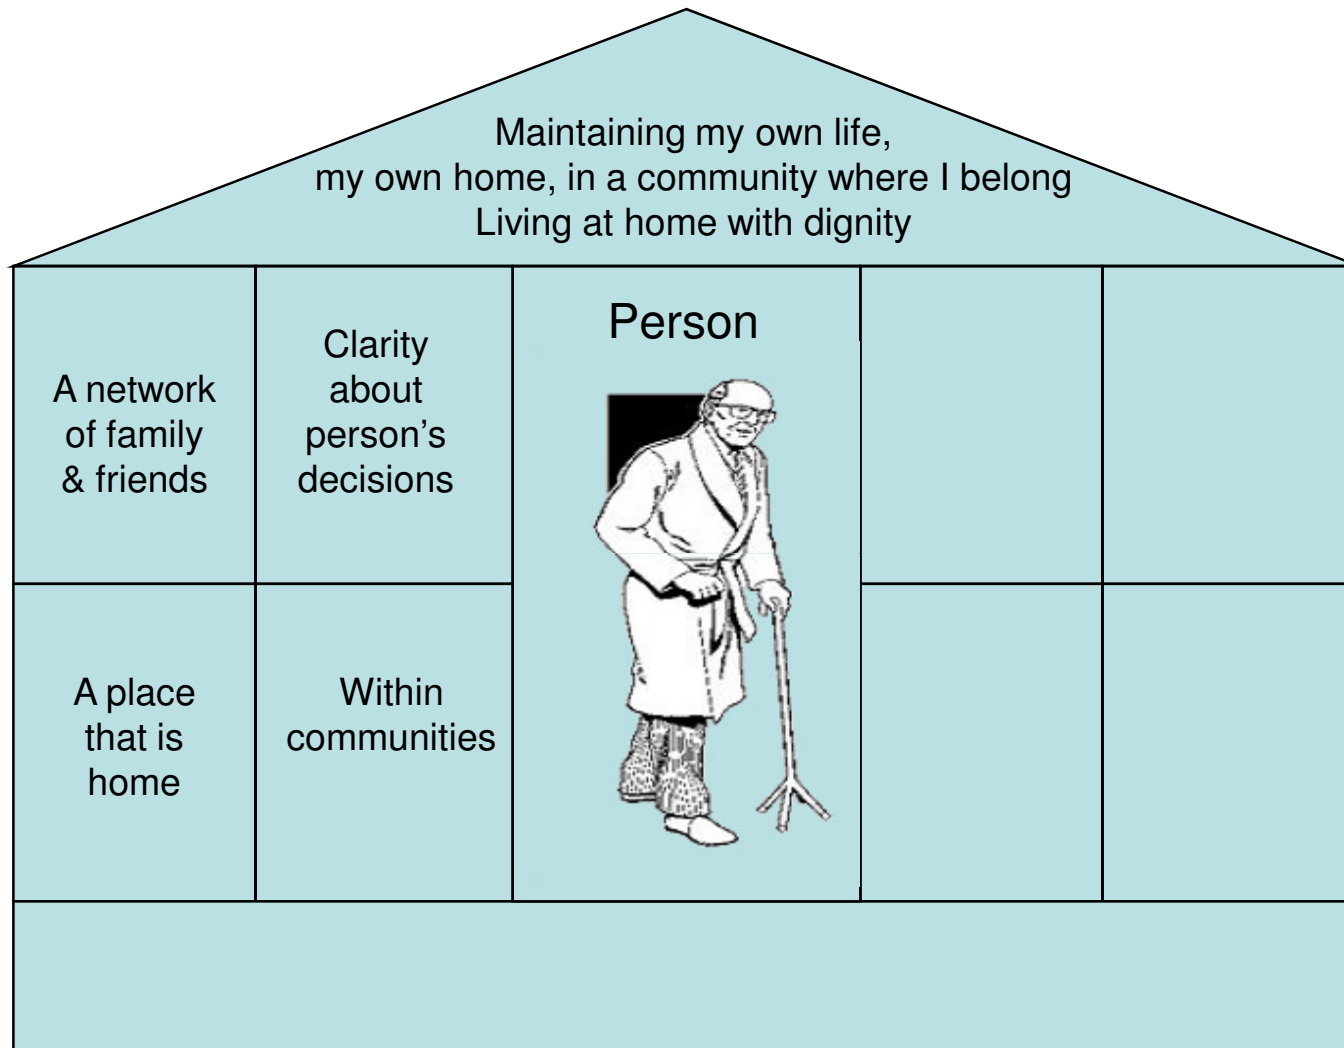

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

Looking forward to community living

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

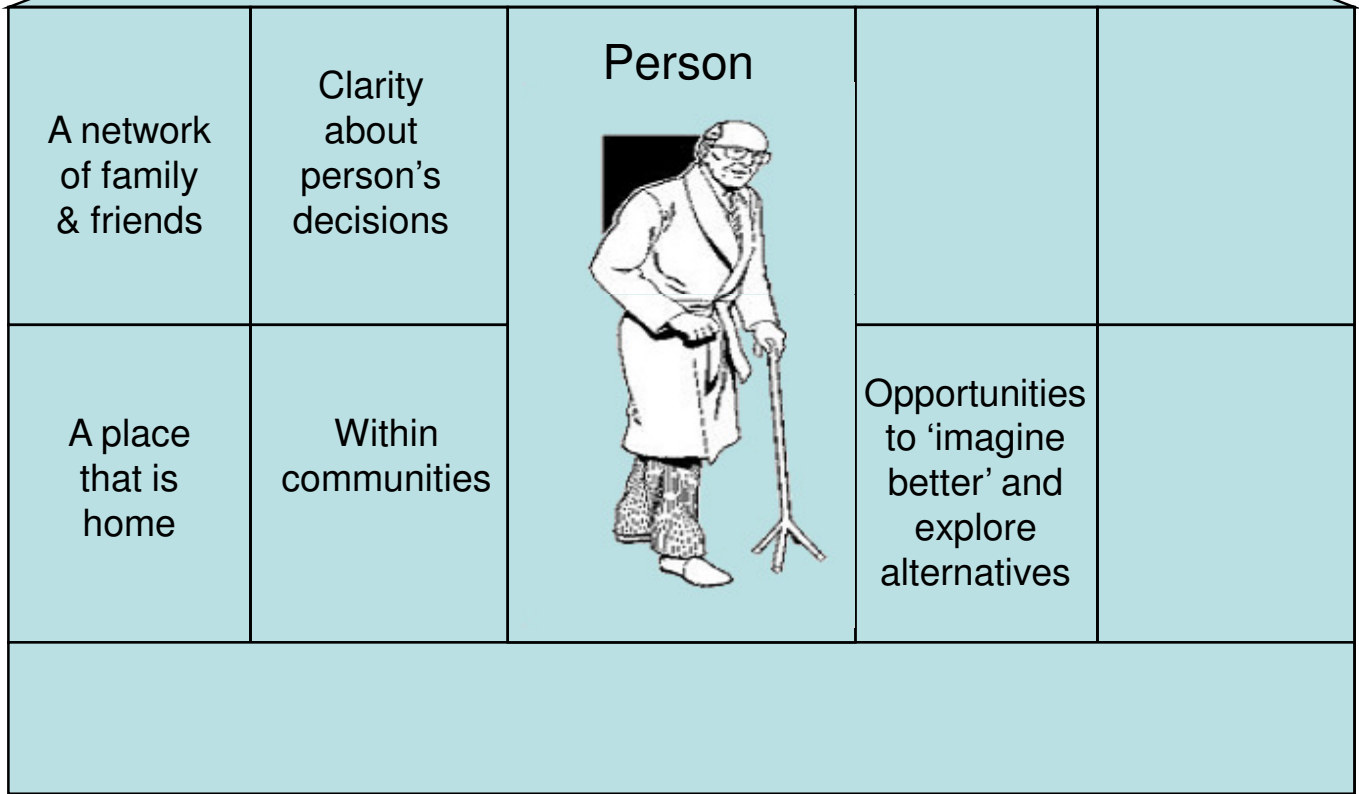

Looking forward to community living

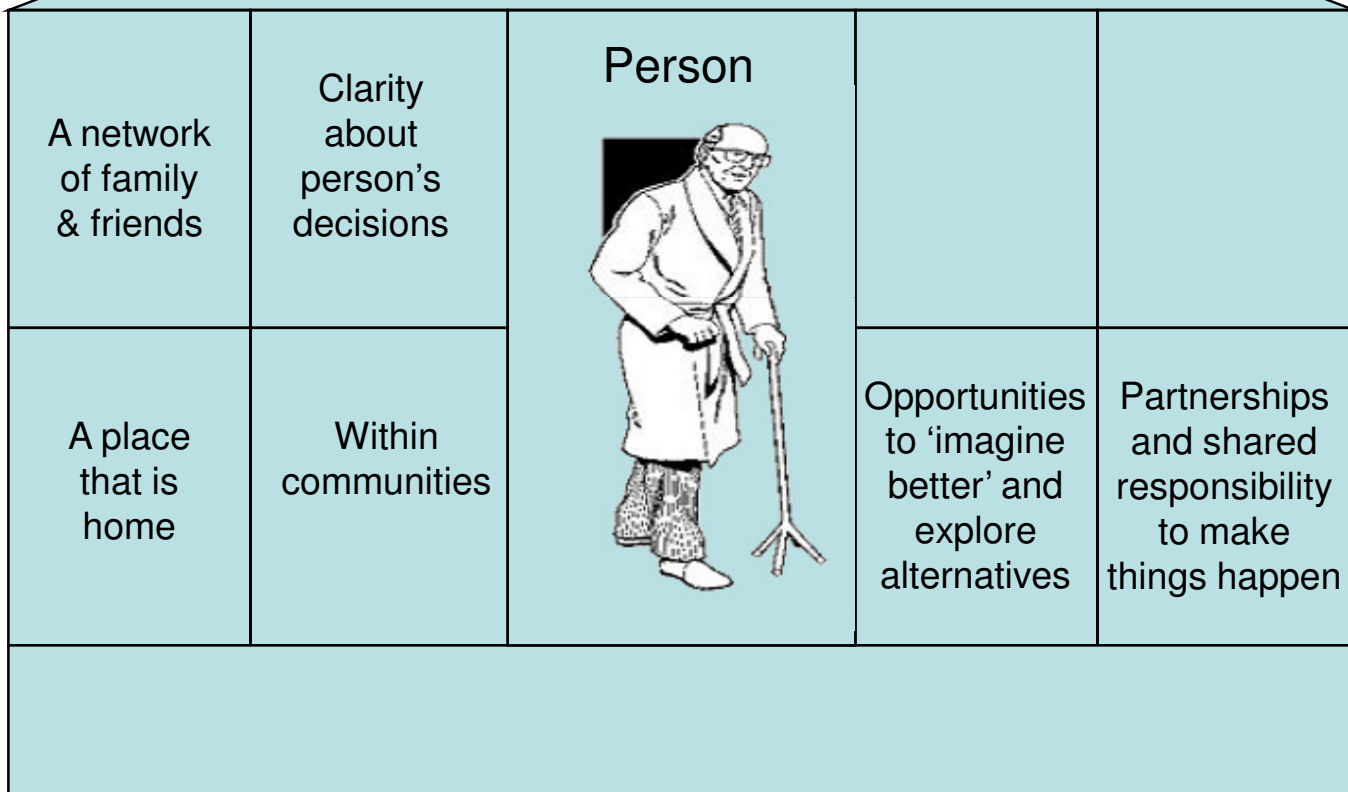

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

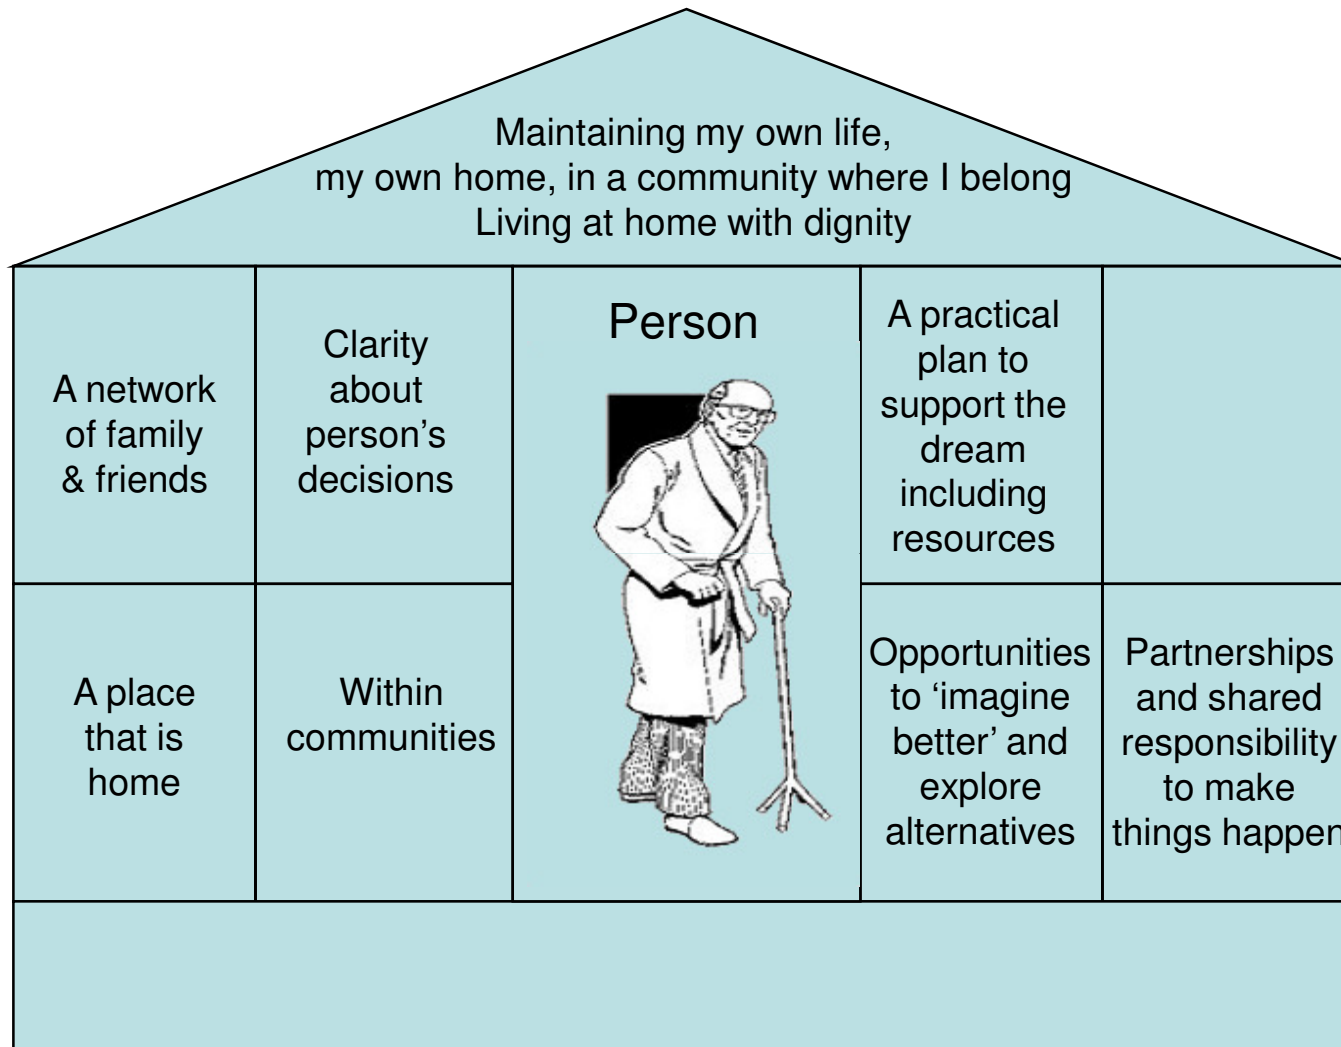

Looking forward to community living

Maintaining my own life,
my own home, in a community where I belong
Living at home with dignity

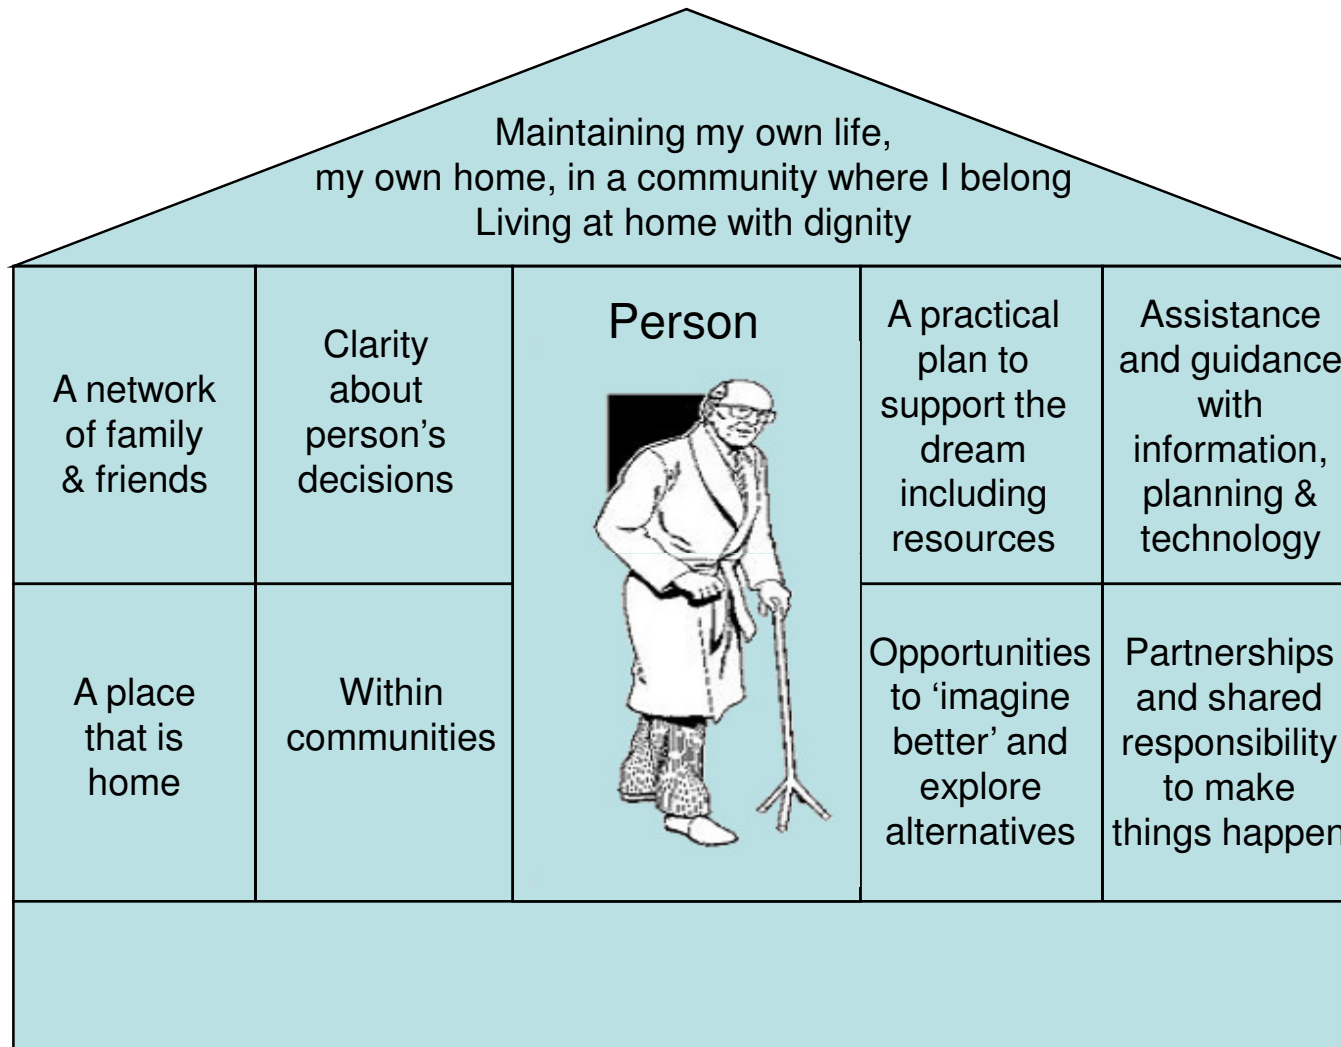

Maintaining my own life,
my own home, in a community where I belong
Living at home with dignity

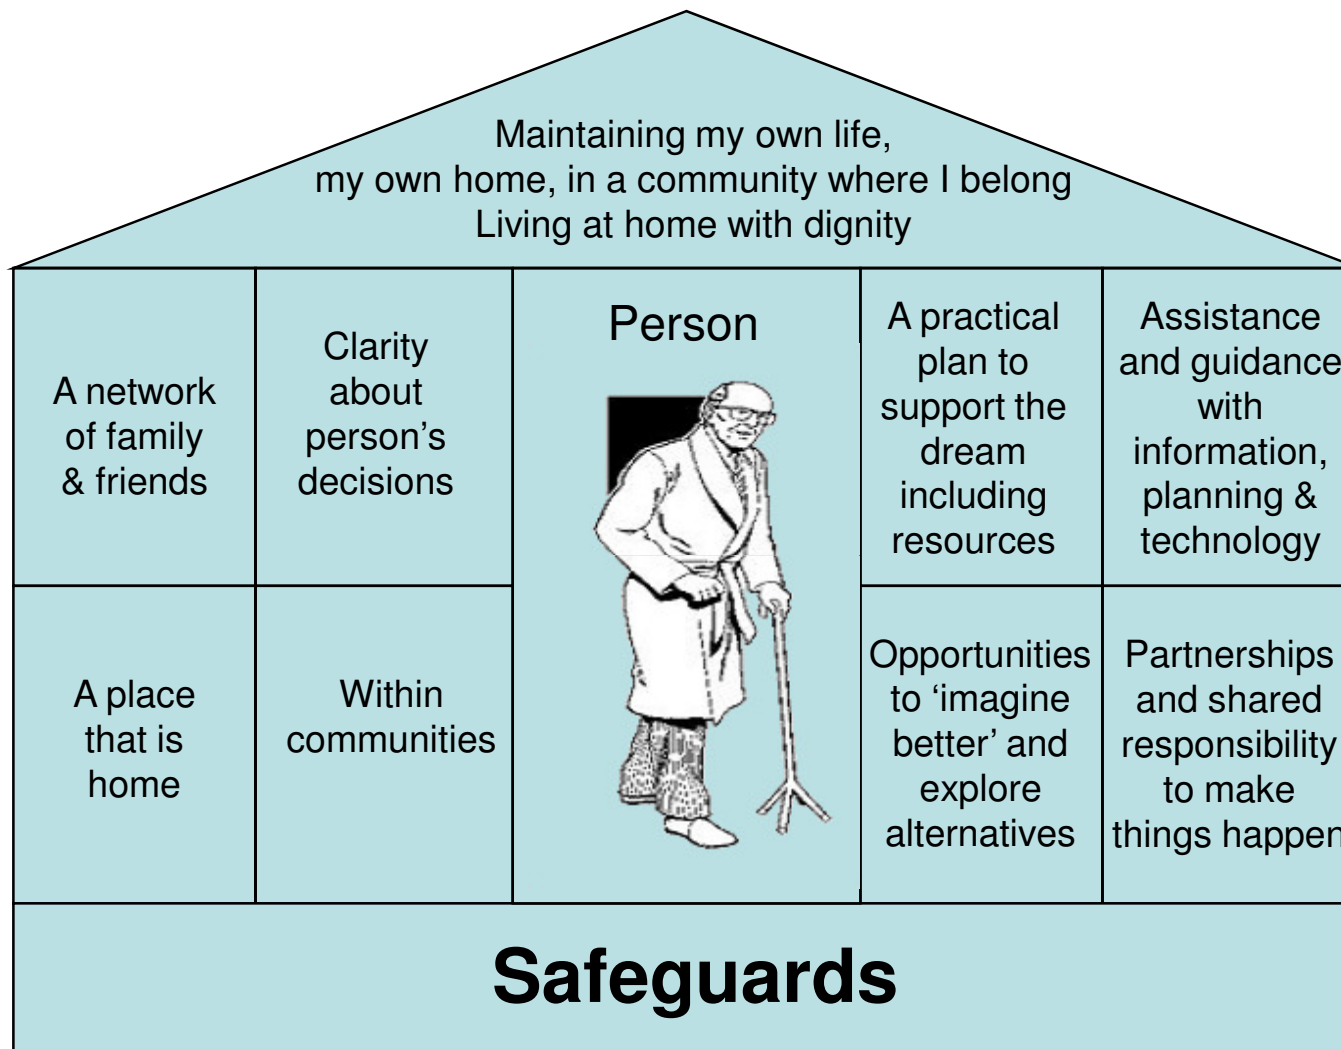

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

Looking forward to community living

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

Looking forward to community living

Disability Services Commission, 2008.

Looking forward to community living

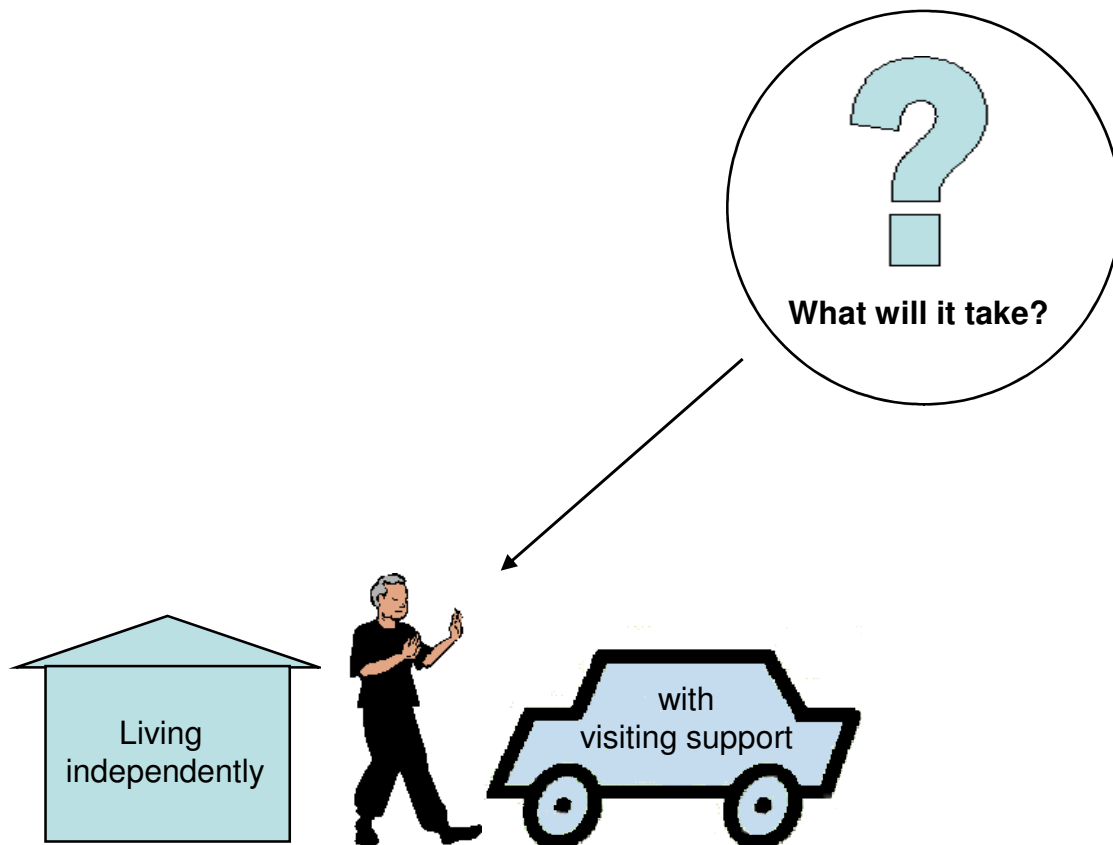

Questions for Community Aged Care Sector?

- What can we do to help people to imagine better what their future could be like?
- How can we help older people to make clear to others their decisions and directions?
- How can we work with family and friends so that they are resourced and strengthened in their relationships?
- How can we work with communities so that their capacity to include and support people as they grow old is strengthened?
- How can we work to ensure housing is developed that will encourage the community to support older people as their needs change?
- How can community services develop our knowledge and skills to provide the specialised information that will support people in the future who are interested in community living?

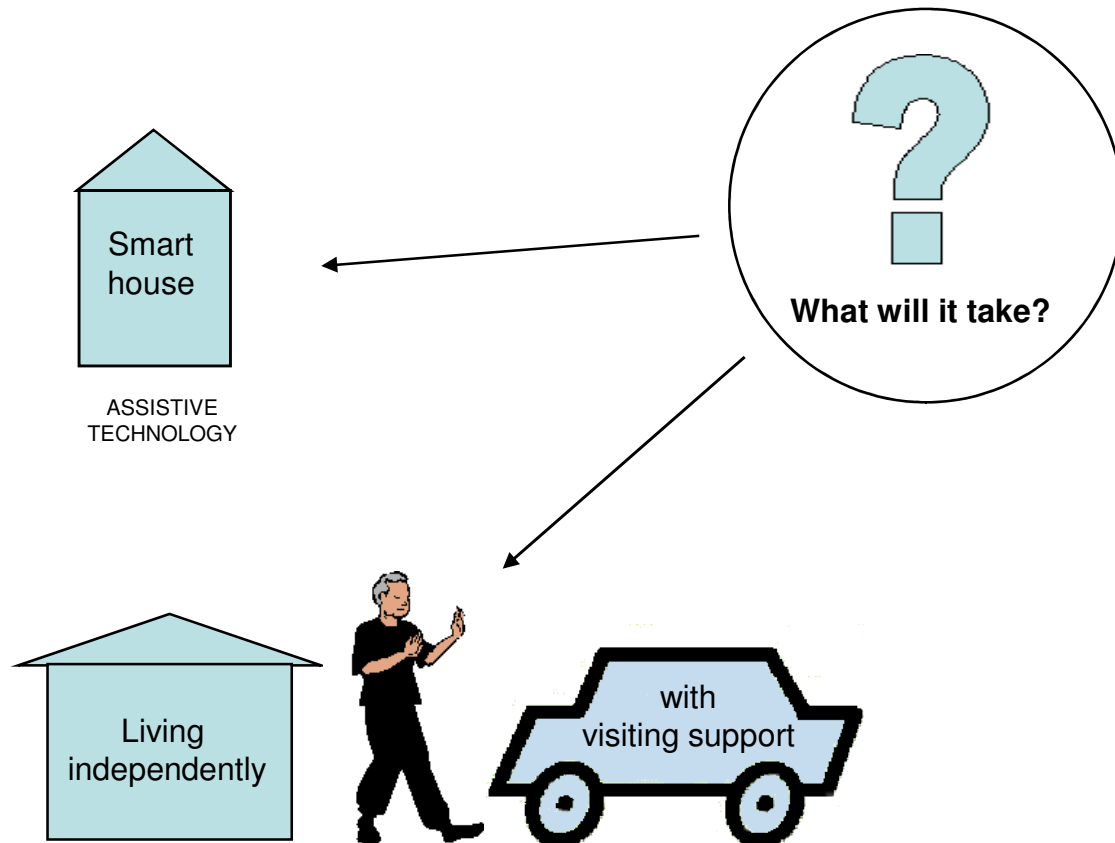

Layers of Support for Community Living

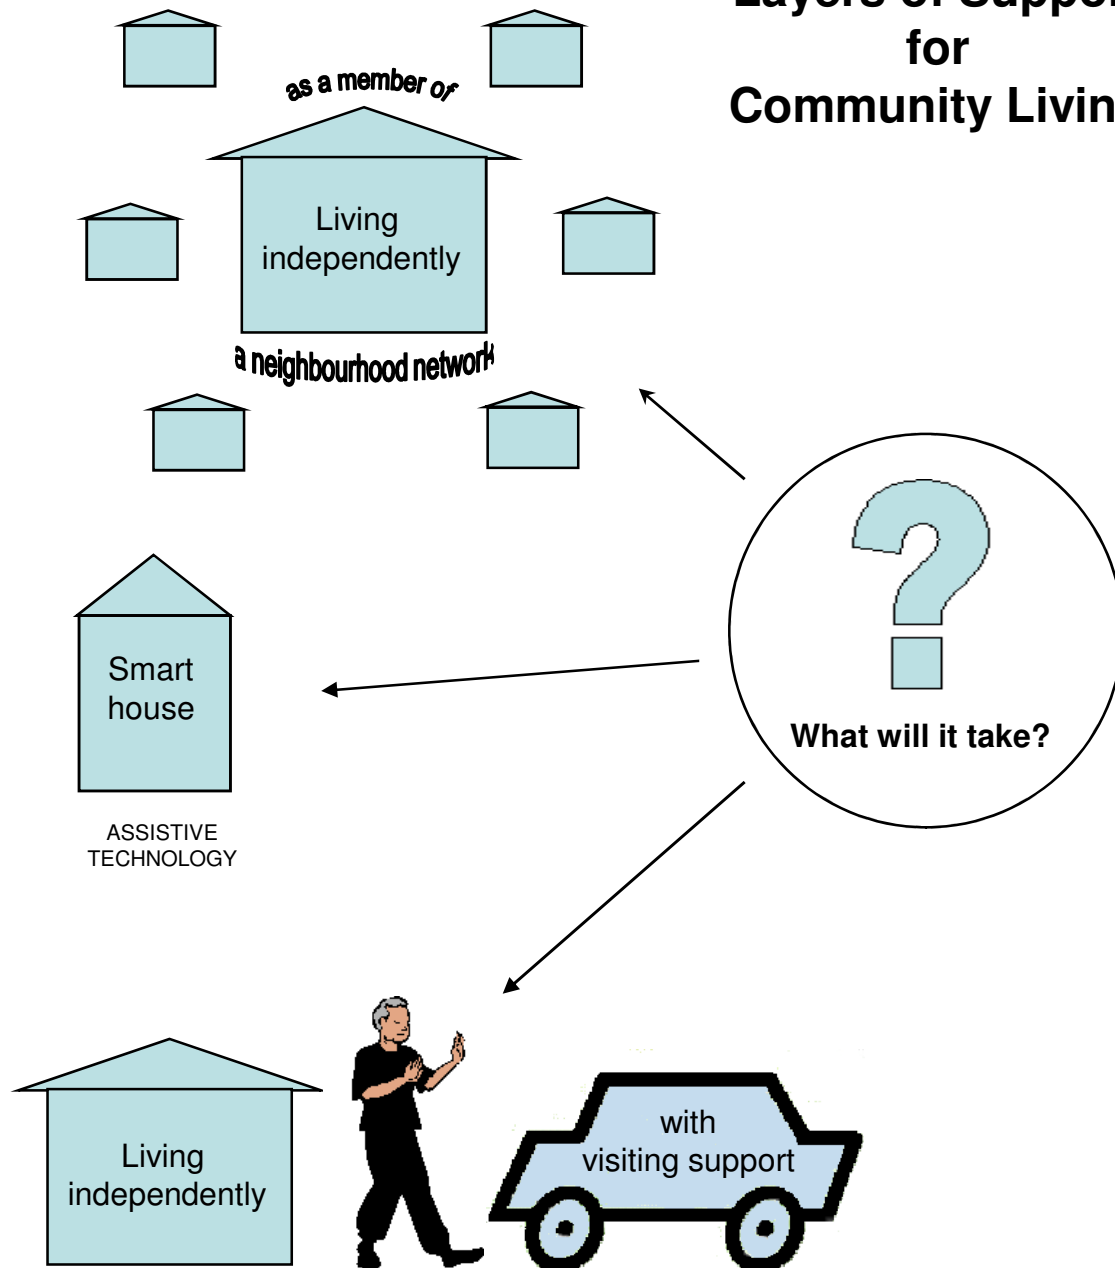

Layers of Support for Community Living

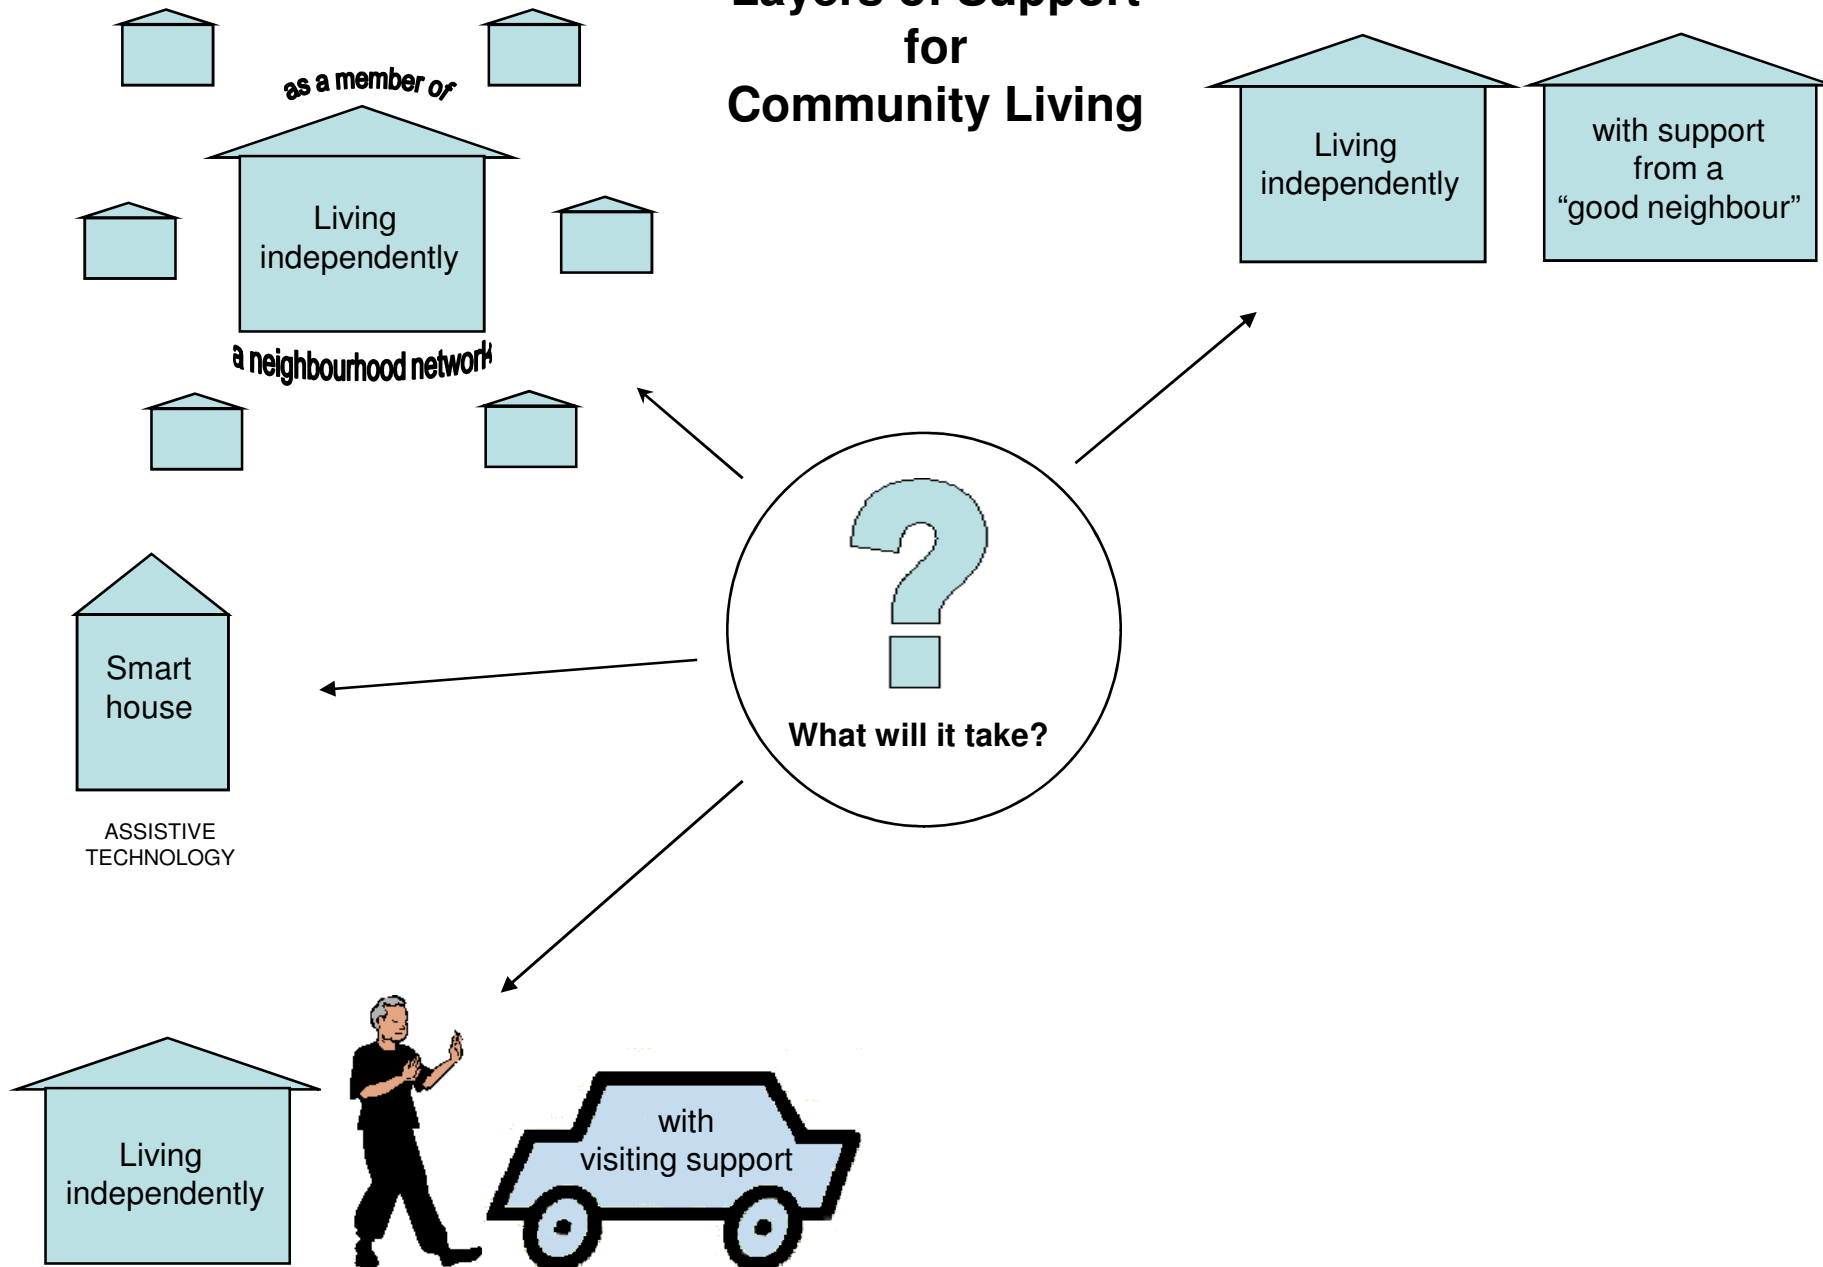

Layers of Support for Community Living

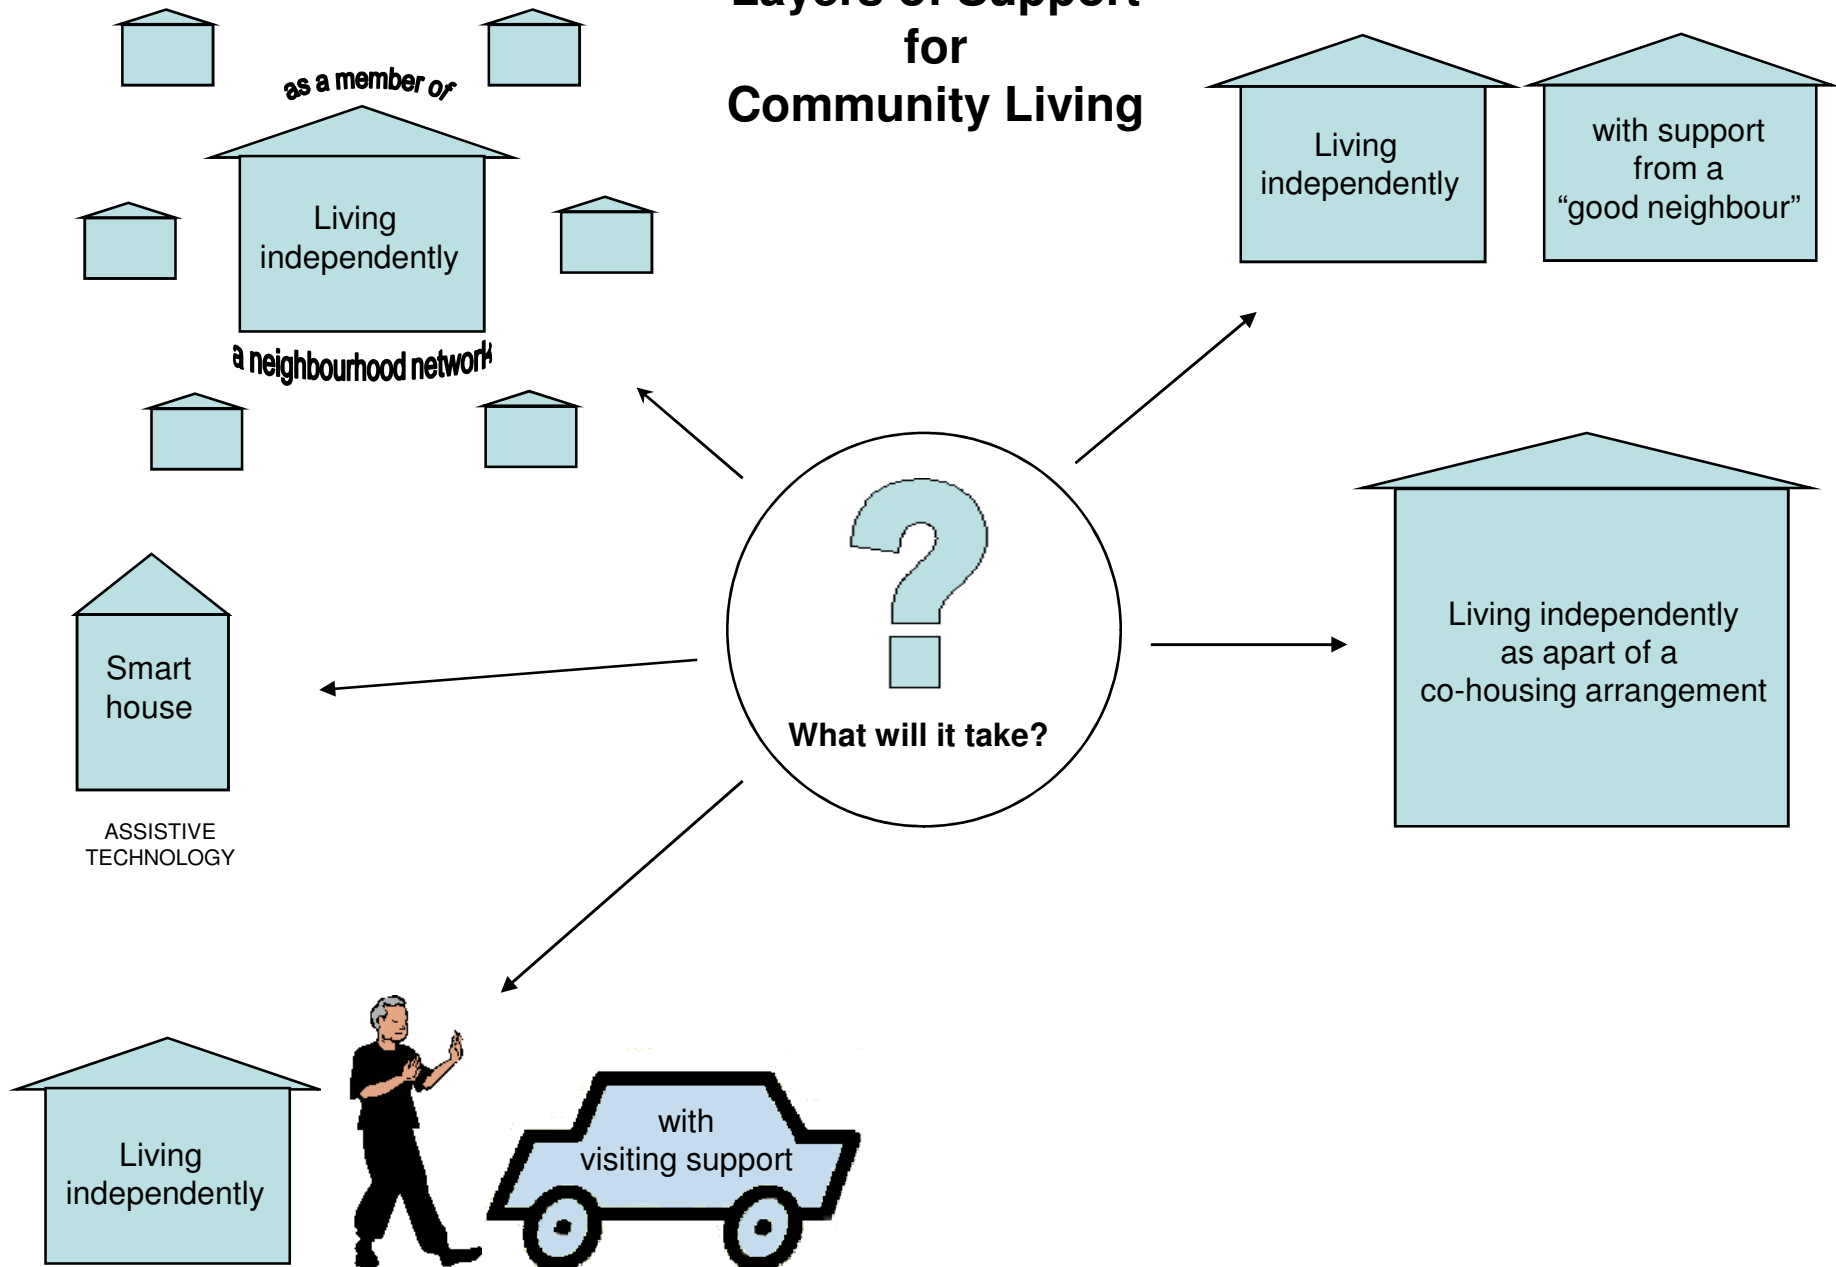

Layers of Support for Community Living

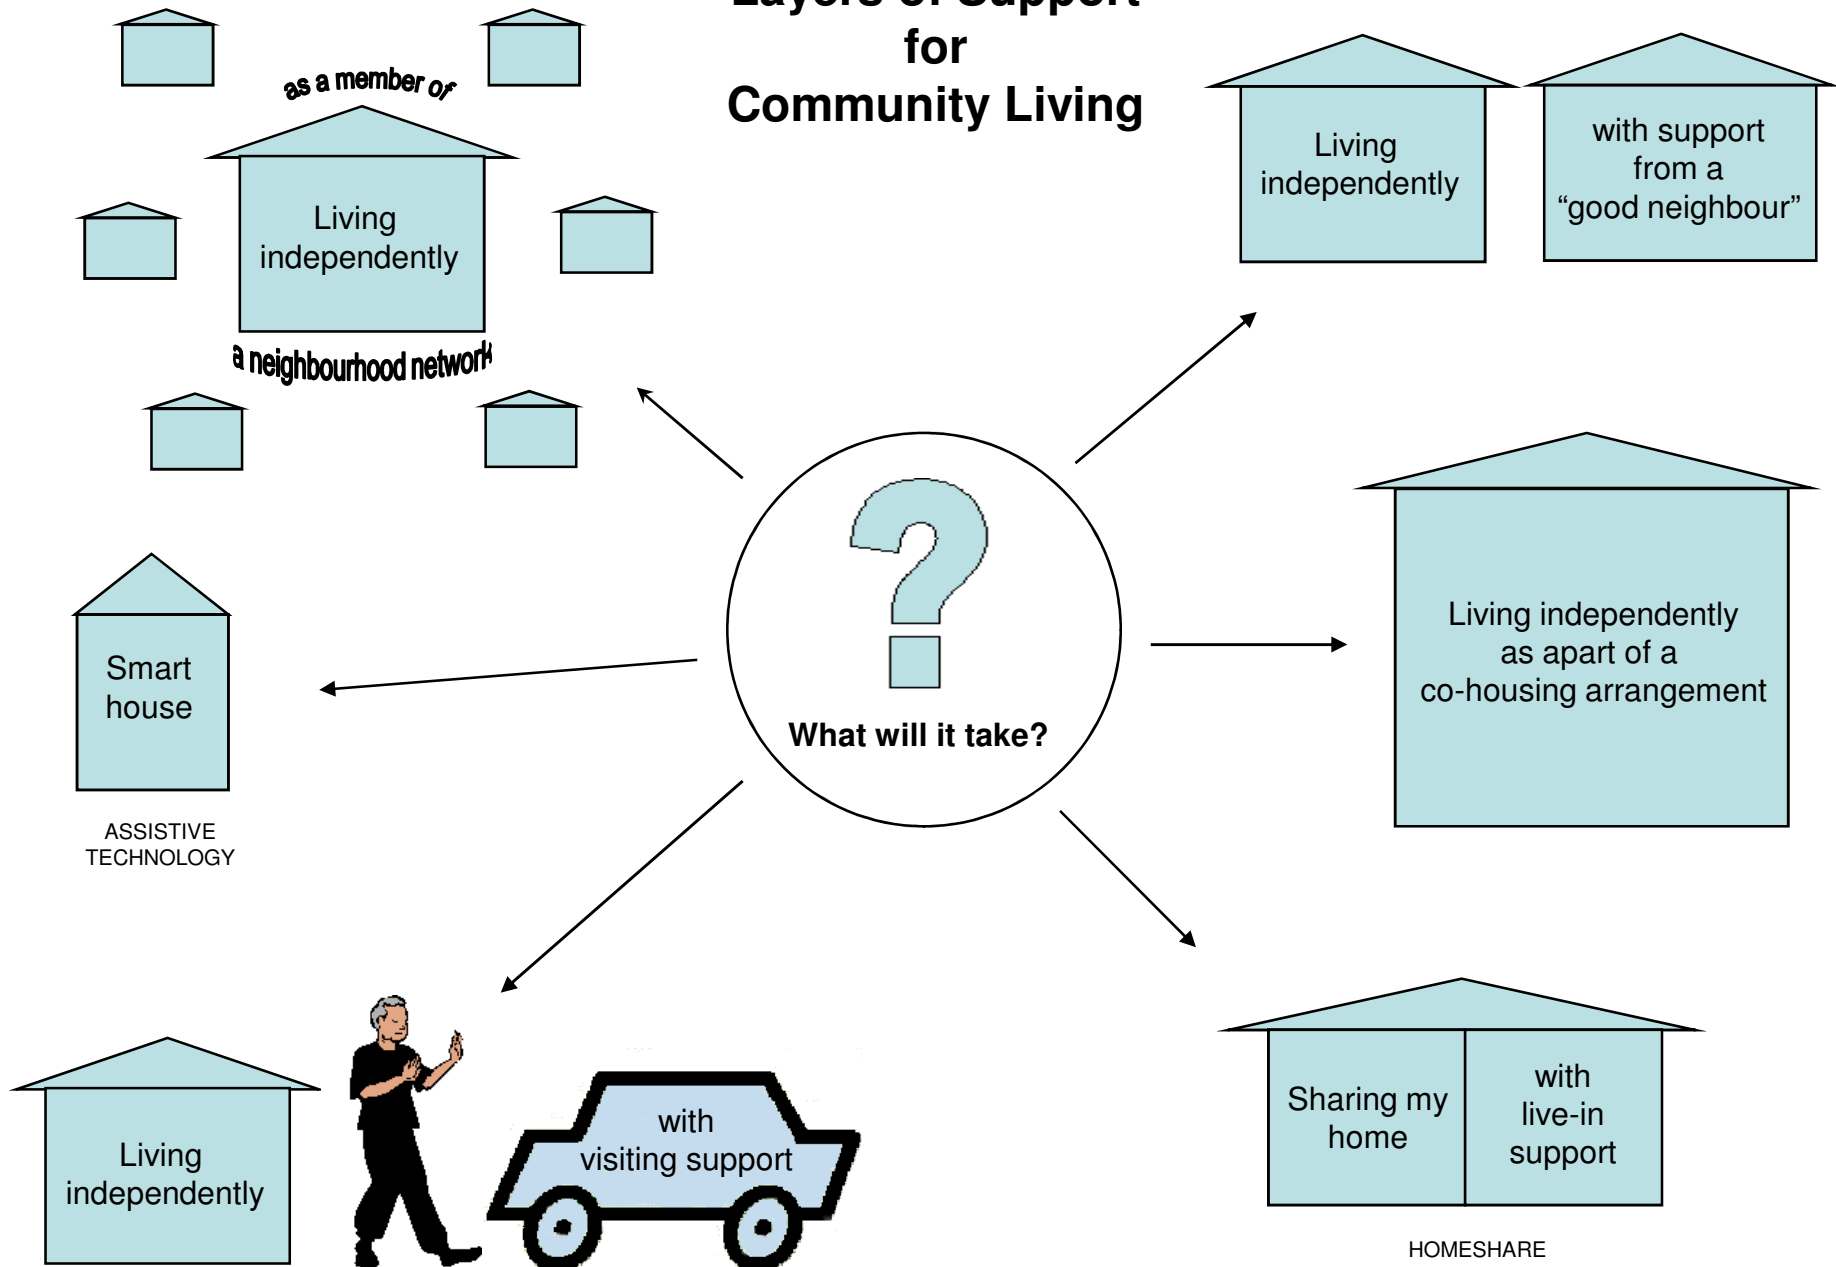

Layers of Support for Community Living

Layers of Support for Community Living

Layers of Support for Community Living

Your Comments and Questions

